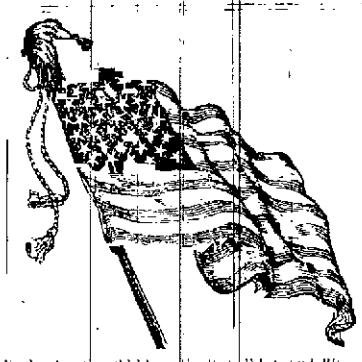
OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.



SATURDAY MORNING, FEB. 15, 1862.

☞ See first and fourth pages.

The Rebels at Charleston.

The rebels at Charleston expect to be attacked on by the Union troops, and are suggesting measures to defeat the designs of their enemies. Some are for burning the city. But this seems to be impracticable, as some of the owners of the property wish their's saved. In a word, all do not agree to set fire to their dwellings and stores. One writer in the Charleston papers makes the following suggestions:

"To the Editor of the Charleston Mercury:

As our enemies are at length in our midst, and doing their utmost to carry out their fiendish schemes upon our sea islands, and as it is supposed that their next efforts may be directed against Savannah or Charleston, I beg leave to make a suggestion, to give them a taste of the cup they design for us.

I would propose that our Mayor be requested to have the Yankee prisoners at Columbia brought down to Charleston, and that all of them from the two cities, together with as many more as the Government can be induced to send us from Richmond, be divided into squads of about twenty-five and chained together; that they then be distributed and placed in wooden buildings in all the various parts of the city, and that notice be then sent, by flag of truce, to the commander of the fleet, that should he be able to effect a passage by our forts and attempt to shell the town, his own brethren at all events, will be made to bear their full share of the effects of fire, shot and shells, which he destined for the particular benefit of our wives and children. We may, in this way, force those devils in human shape to meet us fairly on land at the point of the bayonet, instead of standing off at a comparatively safe distance and destroying us at leisure.

The mode of warfare they have adopted, and are now carrying out, will justify any mode of defense on our part. Yours, W. M."

The Charleston Mercury proposes that if the negroes will not retreat with their masters, they shall be treated as enemies—that is, shot.

It is now about a year since the Charlestonians commenced their active rebellion—and they have a very pleasant time in celebrating its anniversary. Their port is blocked up—their city half burnt—they propose to burn up the rest—to escape into the country and to shoot their negroes, who will not run off with them. The secessionists in South Carolina must be having very pleasant times.

The extracts we have given from the Charleston paper, are of an old date. We do not think an attack will be made upon Charleston by the Union forces. Charleston is no longer a sea-port—and the city must become a desolation—a just reward for the iniquities of her rulers.

The Mexican forces which defeated the Spaniards at the National Bridge, were commanded by Uraga.

Dr. White, of California, appointed to look into the management of Indian affairs on this coast, came up on the last steamer.

The snow is gradually going off in this valley. In the timber there is but little left.

The difficulty of bringing wheat to San Francisco from the country, is said to be the cause of the advance there in wheat and flour. The last Bulletin quoted Oregon Standard Mills' flour at $8, and wheat at $2 50 and $2 75 per 100 pounds. There was no export demand for wheat.

Revolutionary movements are said to be taking place in Russia. Disturbances in Moscow were put down by a large military force.

The Avalanche wants the black flag raised every where, "proclaiming death to the hellish miscreants who pollute secessia by their presence."

The Legislature of California have adjourned from Sacramento to San Francisco, and at the last dates were in session in that city.

FOR SAN JUAN.—Company C 9th Infantry U. S. A., Captain Russell commanding, sailed on the steamer yesterday evening, bound for San Juan Island.

GONE AFTER THE PLEASURE.—The steamer Rival left yesterday morning for Astoria for the purpose of towing the bark Jane A. Falk inburg up the river.

RECORDER'S COURT.—His honor Judge Risley was occupied yesterday forenoon in investigating a case of assault and battery, in which sundry ladies played a part of the programme. All hands were discharged and went their way rejoicing.

ON THEIR WAY OVERLAND.—We learn that there are between three and five hundred miners from Southern Oregon now on their way between Jacksonville and this place.

SURVEYOR OF PORT.—We heard it said yesterday that Capt. John H. Couch has been appointed Surveyor of Customs for this port.

James McKenna advertises in another column that he will open the saloon attached to the Theatre today. He promises to keep the best of liquors.

Gov. Byrnes, of the "Identical," still keeps on hand a good and fresh supply of beverages. Give him a call.

COUNCIL.—The Common Council was in session last night, seven members being present. When we left, at a late hour, several members were busily engaged in speech-making.

THE San Francisco Bulletin's Washington correspondent, under date of January 10th, writes:

SENATOR STARK OF OREGON.—There has been some discussion in the Senate as to the propriety of admitting to his seat Mr. Stark of Oregon in consequence of formal representations made to the body that he is disloyal and an active sympathiser with the rebellion. Whatever the Oregon Senator's predilections may be, he does not find this climate favorable to the airing of any disloyal sentiments, and within the last few days some of his friends are urging that he is perfectly loyal; that he is a Northern man by birth, and that although "he was a Democrat, long suffering and patient toward the South, as Douglas and Dickinson were," he is true to the Union in war. The probability is that he will get his seat after some further delay, until it is distinctly apparent that since his appointment to Senator Baker's vacant seat he has uttered disloyal sentiments.

James L. Pettigru, of Charleston, South Carolina, is said to have made a speech recently in the new Confederate Court, before Judge Magrath, against the Confederate Sequestration Act. He pronounced it infamous and tyrannical. He is said to be a Union man, yet from his age (over seventy) and character, he is one of the few whom the South Carolina barbarians dare not molest.

SOUTH CAROLINA AWAKING.—An item of the last news shows that the divisions among the rebel leaders are now incurable. If it be true, Toombs and Davis are found arraying themselves on the side of peace, while the followers of Rhett are "still for war." We are not informed upon what terms the former would be willing to give up their project for a Southern Confederacy, but we suspect a dodge of some kind.

PLANTING THE FLAG.—In a letter of Dr. Hayes to Mr. Henry Grinnell, giving an account of his expedition to the Arctic regions, he says that the highest point reached by him was in latitude 81 degrees, 35 minutes. This, he believes, is a degree of northing not exceeded or equaled by any explorer except Sir Edward Parry. The Doctor adds that he took possession of the land in the name of the United States with the usual forms, and that the flag which he used upon this occasion "has covered the most Northern known land upon the globe."

Eastern papers say that Mr. Seward lately made this declaration: "The effective part of the war on our side is over. There may be more fighting—but the less of it, the surer we are of a speedy peace. Every battle saved—which can be honorably avoided—is a gain to the cause of the Union. The real danger is over. If we escape danger in our foreign affairs all will be well."

Agency Notice.—Mr. L. P. FISHER is our only authorized Agent in San Francisco to receive advertisements, and transact business for the DAILY and WEEKLY OREGONIAN. Office—No. 171½ Washington street, nearly opposite Maguire's Opera House.
